End of Calendar Year Club Photo competitions

There are three "end of the calendar year" competitions coming up in December. These are:

- The Robert Mackrill Trophy for large prints
- The Dorothy Mackrill Trophy for small prints
- The President's Trophy for digital images

An entry consists of four images chosen by the member. You cannot double up by submitting the same image in more than one of the above competitions. The four images entered should demonstrate your versatility as a photographer. Two images of the same genre will count against your score. Submit entries at the November meeting (Nov 13th). The score for each entry is the sum of the scores for the four images. The trophies will be presented at the December meeting.

Tasmanian Photographic Federation Meeting

This will be held Saturday 17th November at the Bass and Flinders Centre, 8 Elizabeth Street, George Town. Our club is hosting the meeting.

There will be three major activities to participate in:

- Photoshoot on Saturday afternoon at the Low Head Pilot Station and Low Head Lighthouse
- Presentation of the interclub competitions and results at the Bass and Flinders Centre, afternoon tea provided
- Dinner with members of other camera clubs at the Pier Hotel, Elizabeth Street, George Town at 6.00pm for 6.30pm.

Howard Colvin with his TPF prize winning entry

The Tasmanian Photographic Federation (TPF) is a consortium of six camera clubs (our club, West Tamar, Devonport, Ulverstone, Wynyard and Southern Tasmania). Through the TPF, public liability insurance is available to all members of the above clubs. The TPF holds three meetings per year. At the March and November meetings, interclub competitions are held as part of the meeting. At the June meeting, the TPF Photographer of the Year competition is held. Members of the clubs in the TPF can enter their best sets of images to compete for the Photographer of the Year titles.

NTCC members are encouraged to attend the TPF meeting at George Town. Meet at the Low Head Pilot Station or the Low Head Lighthouse around 1.30pm. Then come back to the Bass and Flinders Centre in Elizabeth Street at 3.30pm for afternoon tea and the presentation of interclub entries and results. Then adjourn to the Pier Hotel for a meal. Members may wish to consider staying over on Saturday night to photograph the sunrise on Sunday morning.
