Sunset and Sunrise on the Tamar River

Spectacular sunrises and sunsets are occurring over the Tamar River at this time of year. Here are two examples.

Sunset by Steve Whitworth

A wonderful study in warm colours – yellow, gold and orange, contrasted with shades of gray, and black. The yacht acts as a centre of interest. Great study of the reflection of the clouds.

Early morning at the Yacht Basin by Judy Davey

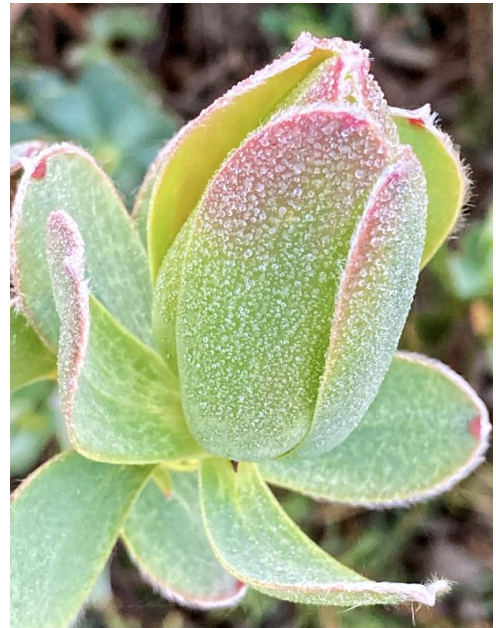

A fantastic sky with mauve clouds and a touch of pink, occupying two thirds of the image. Great depth of focus in the clouds which are nicely reflected in the Tamar River

Tuscany Landscape

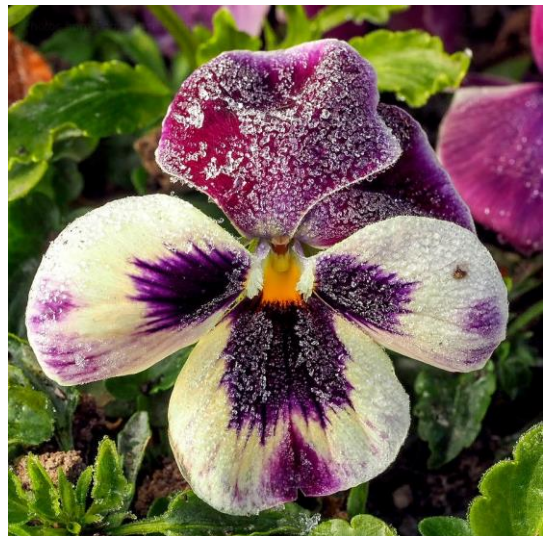

Robert Dillon's Tuscany landscape illustrates some strong points. Note the curved horizon, trees on either side anchoring and balancing the image, plus an active cloudscape covering just under half the image.

July 2020

Photo taken by Frank Styant Browne of a horse drawn caravan often used for overnight stays by NTCC members. In 1896, Frank Styant Browne, one of the founding members of NTCC, undertook a trip with the caravan from Launceston to the East Coast, lasting about 14 days and staying at locations along the way. He was accompanied by Joshua Higgs Jr, artist, pictured here painting in a photo taken by Frank Styant Browne. Frank Styant Browne's account of the excursion recalls many of the characters they encountered on the trip. The pair followed this excursion up with a trip through the Meander Valley.

The possibility of a club excursion following as much as possible of the route taken by Frank Styant Browne and Joshua Higgs Jr has been discussed at committee level. Unfortunately, the Covid pandemic stopped any further planning. Have no fear, in a concession to technology, participants will not be required to use horse-drawn carts for transportation and sleeping!
