Phil Hallam to speak at April Meeting A Photo a Day for 3 years

The April guest speaker on the 12th April is Phil Hallam who is one of the most experienced photographers in Tasmania as these photographs demonstrate.

For the last 3 years, Phil has participated in the "Photograph a Day" activity. Phil's wife selects a topic for the day, and Phil goes out looking for appropriate images. To keep persevering on a project like this for over 3 years is quite an achievement.

Wetlands Exhibition at QVMAG

QVMAG will present an exhibition on Wetlands with the Tamar Island Wetlands being highlighted from August. Our club will be the first club to display images of wetlands at the entrance to the museum.

For members who are regular visitors to the Tamar Islands Wetlands, this is a request to sort out your better wetlands' images of Tamar Island. Not just birds, but of all things associated with the Wetlands e.g. low and high tides, flora, man's interference with the wetlands.

For those who haven't visited the Wetlands regularly, this is an opportunity to visit. Rod Oliver is willing to act as a guide.

Images should meet criteria for club digital competitions. More details later. Images will need to be provided to Rod Oliver by June 14.

VAN GOGH

Currently showing in Melbourne is a digital art exhibition about the life of painter Vincent Van Gogh at Lume Melbourne in the Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre.

The Lume is Australia's first digital art gallery of 3,000 square metres and 11 metres high. When you enter the Lume, you are surrounded by images on the walls, floor and a group of central screens. Amazing to be sitting or standing among moving images. You can also go upstairs for a different perspective. The exhibition is a moving feast of digital images of the five stages of Van Gogh's life.

Multiple images of Van Gogh's life.

For photographers who are used to viewing single images projected onto a screen, the exhibition is mind-changing. The exhibition runs to the end of June. Well worth flying to Melbourne to see the Van Gogh Exhibition.

Appreciation Award

This month's Appreciation Award goes to Rhonda Mortimer for revising the Club Membership Application Form. Around 8 versions of the form were developed by Rhonda and critiqued by members. It was an impressive effort. We now have a state of the art membership application form. Thanks to Rhonda and those members who reviewed the various drafts.

Bruny Island Excursion

Several members and partners or friends are heading for Bruny Island on the last weekend in May. If other members are interested, booking accommodation at either Alonnah or Adventure Bay should be a top priority. Please advise Rhonda Mortimer or Muriel Rollins if you're attending. The group will be dining at night at the Hotel Bruny at Alonnah.
