NTCC field trip attire 120 years ago:
Hat, collar, tie, and jacket.

Members of the Launceston Camera Club i.e. The Northern Tasmanian Camera Club, gather for an informal and apparently copious lunch on a field trip around 1900.

Note: men only, collar and tie, hat, and jacket.

Photography was a hobby for the affluent in the early years of photography.

Jamie Buchanan addressing members at the May meeting of the club.

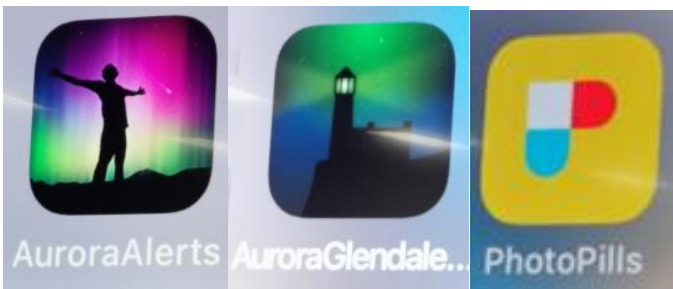

About Jamie’s photography:

Three years as a serious photographer:

Focuses on night photography: The Night Sky and Aurora
Also specialises on Architectural Photography

Night Photography: considerable planning and preparation required. Out in the cold for 90 minutes – warm clothes essential. Computer apps are available to assist preparation and photography:

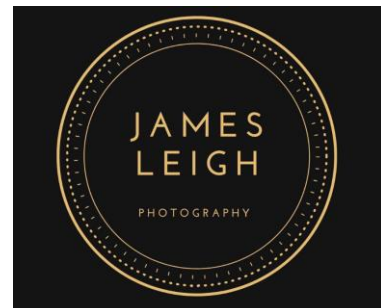

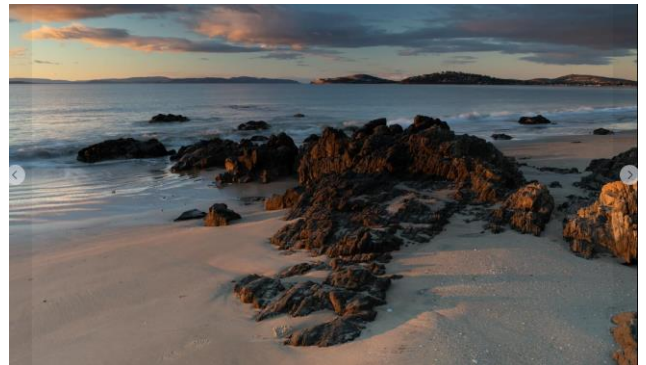

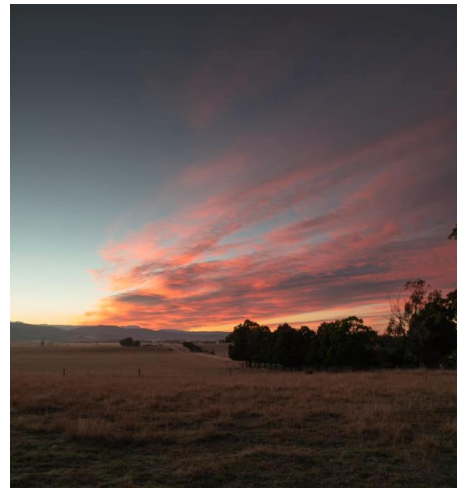

- Photo Pills, Aurora Alerts, Aurora Glendale

- Shoots in Camera RAW, Edits in Lightroom, Dodges and burns in Photoshop.
- RAW: single frame, f2.8, 25 secs, ISO 5000
- Prefers cooler than warmer photos.
- Uses light painting foregrounds for shots including foreground.
- Architectural Photography: uses Sigma 14 – 24 mm lens, f2.8, full frame. Shoot at 14mm.
- Trades as James Leigh Photography – see opposite column
