Life Membership Awarded to Rod Oliver

Newly crowned President Rod Oliver was caught off guard by Ron Camplin delivering a eulogy about Rod's achievements for the Northern Tasmanian Camera Club where he had been a member for 15 years.

Rod being surprised by Ron Camplin, watched by Secretary Jack

Ron detailed Rod's service to the club. He joined in 2008 to improve his photographic skills to raise the quality of photographs he used for producing bulletins for a Rotary Club and a Masters Swimming Club.

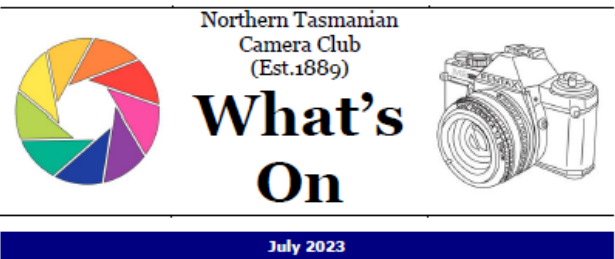

Rod served as President Hector Beveridge's Secretary during Hector's two year term as President of NTCC. He served as Vice President in Richard Claase's term as President and succeed Richard as President in 2015 – 2017. In a master stroke, he invited Steve Whitworth to follow him as President. This will be Rod's second term as President.

He has been involved in most aspects of club activities, including being a regular participant in club competitions. He was also involved with the Tasmanian Photographic Federation and the Australian Photographic Society.

Rod is presented with the Life Membership Certificate by Ron Camplin.

Over the years he has witnessed major changes in club activities e.g. relocation from meeting at the Glenara Retirement Village to the Lions Club in Kings Meadows and stopping print competitions.

In 2017, Rod took over the production of the club's monthly bulletin, "What's On". He likes taking and processing photos for the bulletin.

He has enjoyed the time he has put into the club. He looks forward to the club's 135th Anniversary in 2024.

Owen Hughes
Presenter at the August Meeting

Owen Hughes established his business in Launceston in 1969. In his early years as a full-time professional photographer, he could not afford a studio and as such, developed an innovative style.

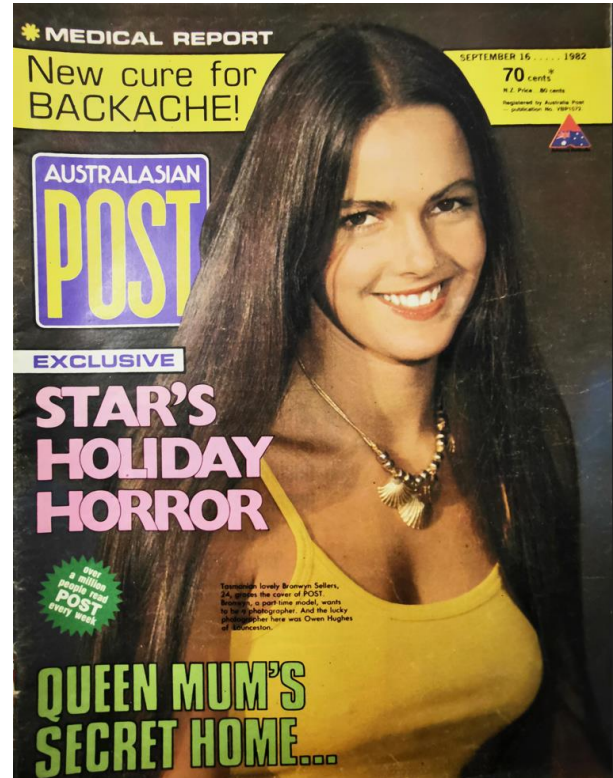

His accolades include:

- Tasmania's first Master of Photography and Australia's seventh.
- Fellow of the Australian Institute of Professional Photographers.
- Australian Landscape Photographer of the year.
- Australian Wedding Photographer of the year.
- Australian Portrait Photographer of the year.
- As a highly skilled and respected commercial photographer.
